TRUSTS AFTER TEDDY
The Great Corporations Will Try to Retire the Rough Rider to Private Life
New York, June 6.—A special dispatch, or rather a series of such, to the leading papers of this city from Chicago, discloses some new political movements which amount to a sensation. It is declared that the complete political destruction of President Roosevelt and all who are in acknowledged alliance with him in his fight on the packers is the plan of the millionaire proprietors of America's meat industry.
As soon as J. Ogden Armour—who has the longest head and the strongest purse in the combination—returns from Europe the heads of all the big concerns will meet to arrange a plan of action. It concentrates the excitement of all the great trusts and corporations at which the administrative gains have been aimed since the war on them began into a great organization with untold millions behind it.
The "captains of industry" will endeavor to capture the machinery of whatever of the two great political parties may be most effectively utilized. According to a leading lawyer, who is in a position to be fully posted on the subject, Roosevelt cannot any longer be trusted by the class to represent their interests. They aver that he has lately shown tendencies which are dangerously socialist and has demonstrated the peril of electing a man of radical turn of mind to the presidency.
The announcement has aroused considerable interest in political circles, and there are many men of the same sentiments as the president who declare that they are ready to welcome a contest along these lines. The declaration of the purpose of the meat trust comes immediately after the giving out by the president of the startling report of conditions in Packingtown, and is generally supposed to be due to that circumstance.

LIGHT LITERATURE
It Contains Some Solid Arguments for the Consideration of the Voters of Marion County
Re-Click, Fla. June 5, 1906.
Editor Star—Twice in the last six years have the people, by their votes, declared against a no fence law in Marion county, and I will abide by their decision, and if elected, will not favor a no fence law.
I have carefully studied the Buckman bill as well as read up on the subject before the Buckman bill was passed, and believe it is a big improvement on the old law, and I believe it will save the state many thousands of dollars yearly and it will furnish the people far superior college advantages and I say forward not backward, in school matters.
As to the drainage question I think the courts should first decide whether the Everglades belong to the East Coast R. R. or the state of Florida; whether the $220,000 in the internal improvement fund belongs to the E. & N. R. R. or not, before one cent is spent on drainage schemes. To undertake by canals the drainage of a territory whose watershed covers one-fourth of the state, to be but partially successful would require millions of dollars, and if undertaken with the finances now on hand I believe it would be a waste of that much money.
Marion county has less than ten white people to the square mile; but 2 acres in cultivation to 1000 unimproved. We have the land, the room, the railroad to sustain a million happy, prosperous people within our borders. We are now not needing more land, but are needing such improvements in existing affairs that will enable us to compete with our competitors, and by our prosperity draw millions of people to the state. I object to a single mill of tax money for everglade drainage now.
We have compared the state expenditures of 1895 with appropriations made by the last legislature. The legislature of 1895 appropriated $750,000; appropriations of 1905, $85,000. The 1905 legislature pay amounts to $40,000; the 1905, $45,000. In 1905, the regular clerk's pay was $8 per day and extra; one janitor and assistant janitor for both house and senate, $5 per day; one sergeant-at-arms for both house and senate, $5 per day; doorkeeper for both house and senate, $5 per day; one janitor and assistant janitor for both house and senate, $5 per day; messengers for both house and senate, $5 per day; pages, $1 per day; over $50 per day for this class of help.
Lunatics in 1895, $17,000; lunatics in 1905, $10,000.
Judiciary in 1895, $24,000; in 1905, $24,000.
Clerk hire for judiciary in 1895, $2100; in 1905, $5100.
Secretary of state clerk's hire in 1895, $1500; in 1905, $3500.
Attorney general clerk hire, in 1895, $900; in 1905, $2700.
Superintendent of public instruction, clerk hire, in 1895, $900; in 1905, $4600.
Commissioner of agriculture, clerk hire in 1895, $1200; in 1905, $5700.
Comptroller, clerk hire in 1895, $2700; in 1905, $11,400.
The state received through delinquent taxes, $22,000, and the comptroller's clerk hire for this special department was $2500.
This is enough to show how our state affairs are managed.
Sworn Statement
State of Florida,
Marion County.
Before me personally came L. S. Light, who being duly sworn, deposed and says: Whereas it has reached my ears that certain rumors have been circulated, and are now being circulated, to the effect that I have in past years voted for a negro for office in this county, I take this method of denying such statement and I pronounce it a most malicious falsehood, connected and spread abroad to injure me.
Sworn and subscribed before me this June 4, 1906.
John E. Bailey, Notary Public.

AN APPROPRIATE NAME
Kilbride Killed the Woman He Was Infatuated With, and Her Husband
New York, June 6.—After shooting and fatally wounding Mrs. Mary Kelly, aged twenty-four, with whom he was in love, John Kilbride sent a bullet crashing through the heart of John Kelly, the woman's fifty-year-old husband.
The shooting occurred at the home of the Kellys, corner of Ninety-second street and Delighten avenue, in Brooklyn. After the shooting the murderer ran through Fort Hamilton and the police believe he made his escape in a small boat.
Later, Kilbride was arrested at Fort Hamilton, where he had been hiding. He was taken immediately to the Tombs.

SAN FRANCISCO SHOCKED
A Brief But Distinct Tremor Felt at the Golden Gate
San Francisco, June 6.—A slight and brief earthquake shock was felt about midnight in this city and in Oakland, but the shock was not strong enough to work any damage whatever.
The people of both cities, who have recovered from the nervous fear resulting from the great earthquake, were not greatly affected by the shock (quintessence prevails in both cities and the work of reconstruction is going ahead steadily and rapidly.
Foley's Honey and Tar cures the most obstinate coughs and expels the cold from the system as it is mildly laxative. It is guaranteed. Do not risk taking any but the genuine in the yellow package. Sold by all dealers.
